MARKS WELCOMES MUSIC TEACHERS

get Has Affected Public Concerts.

400 DELEGATES PRESENT

Marcus M. Marks, President of the Borough of Manhattan, opened the twenty-seventh annual convention of the New York State Music Teachers Association yesterday morning in the Hotel

McAlpin with an address of welcome.

"There are seventeen different languages spoken in this city," said Mr.

Marks, "and music is the only language to the budget and make it impossible to present this common language to all the people by way of concerts in the parks and on the piers. Universal peace cannot be accomplished but through a signed statement or by means of an interview with newspaper representatives.

According to statements made yester-day by Gen. du Pont's associates, the General will publicly piedge himself to use his stock control of the Equitable to mutualize the company.

There are seventeen different languages to the to them in a lump sum after Congress shall have an opportunity to pass a deficiency bill. Thrifty ones argue that it's just like putting money in the bank.

The Washington postal authorities have notified postmasters to make no further recommendations for increases in salaries on account of a lack of funds, and the men who had been looking forward to increases will have to plan to get along on their present incomes and deeper sense of harmony, of which the deeper sense of harmony, of which the musician is the true teacher."

Frederick Schlieder, president of the tions to them. sociation, said that the time was coming when music would be an elective study in the public schools.

Four hundred delegates are attending the convention.

PATERSON'S GROWTH SMALL.

5 Years-Passale Jumps 15,000. PATERSON, N. J., June 15 .- The population of Paterson will not be much over 130,000, according to Supervisor John Boylan, who has about seventy-five enupostmasters as to the efficiency of the men and the appropriations made by Congress to cover the increases. Some years 50 per cent, and other years 75 per cent, and other years 75 the census of 1910 being 125,600. The per cent of the men on the lists entitled to increases have been provided for by the appropriations.

When the post office appropriation bill failed of passage at the last session Congress adopted a resolution introduced by Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, continuing the 1914-1915 appropriations.
